

A LIFE WOVEN WITH LOSS AND HOPE, WHERE MILES2SMILE HELPS STITCH THE FUTURE

NAZISH

NORTHEAST DELHI, DELHI

Nazish weaves charpais in her small room, her hands moving steadily across a wooden frame, sustaining her family after losing her husband, Jamaluddin, to the 2020 Delhi riots. Once the sole breadwinner, his death forced her into relentless labor, leaving little income and halting her sons' education. With support from the Miles2Smile Foundation, her children were enrolled in Miles2Smile's Sunrise Public School, restoring her hope. However, her charpai weaving work could not bring sufficient income. To sustain financial stability, Nazish dreamt of completing the half-built upper floor of her house for rental income.

Miles2Smile helped her out in constructing the same through a fundraiser. The initiative helped her earn sufficient income and a stable life.
