

Restoring Taslim's Poultry Shop

Taslim, Bihar Sharif, Bihar

Taslim had sold chicken from his wooden kiosk in Gagan Diwan, Sasaram, for three years, a business passed down from his father. On March 31, during Ram Navami, a mob attacked his kiosk, looting his money box and destroying everything. “Why are you doing this? I’ve done nothing to anyone!”

Taslim cried, watching helplessly. The police did nothing. He narrowly escaped, but his livelihood was gone. Weeks passed with his family struggling for food. During relief work, Miles2Smile helped him with Rs 30,000. Taslim rebuilt his shop, saying with hope, “I will start again and provide for my family.”
