

The Light of a Helping Hand

Roshni, married to a cart puller, lived with her husband and three children, surviving on a meager income. One fateful day in Khaskhas Wadi, Khargone, their home was demolished by officials citing illegal construction.

Roshni pleaded to take water bottles and slippers for her children, but they were forced to leave barefoot. Her husband used his shirt to shield their feet from the scorching ground. Roshni sustained a severe knee injury while saving the Quran amidst the chaos. Miles2Smiles raised funds for her, offering hope. The support helped Roshni heal, rebuild her life, and restore her faith in humanity.
