

A Merciless Mob Lynching, A Promise and Everlasting Smiles with Miles2Smile

📍 Saddam Shamli, Uttar Pradesh

"My Saddam didn't die a natural death; if he had, I would have found peace. But I feel no peace," said Saddam Qureshi's grieving mother to Miles2Smile. To bring solace, we visited their home in Lakhnauti, Saharanpur, and made a promise—to help them rebuild. Fulfilling it, we provided two buffaloes to start a milk business. Today, that business transporting buffaloes, dying days after the attack, sustains them, and for the first time, Saddam's mother smiled, saying, "You eased my pain." His death shattered his family—his parents and two sisters left devastated.
